Heavy duty LED light with built in video camera!

This personal digital video recorder is a three-in-one tool. As a flashlight, the white LED has 3 brightness levels to provide illumination with minimal battery drain. During the day or night, you can conveniently record video with audio or take photos. The incredible new SV-1000 is ideally suited for law enforcement use since it provides enhanced officer safety and evidence recording that would not be possible with vehicular camera systems.

Uses 3 rechargeable C batteries that recharge in 6 hours or you can use alkaline batteries. Recharge batteries using the car adapter in your vehicle or the 12VAC-DC adapter for in-house charging.
